WILL OF FRANCIS TAYLOR, FRANKLIN CO., NC, 1816

"I give to my wife Patty TAYLOR my rideing chare & harness & my best chare horse. I give her no more, because she will at my death, Possess a very considerable estate, independent of me & because I here solemnly declare she never Earned me one Cent in Her Whole life...

To my Son W^m P TAYLOR I give & Bequeath the whole of the Truth & Honesty I may Possess at my Death, which (if He makes a prudent use off) Will be of fare greater advantage to Him & stay much longer with Him than the Hansom Estate in Lands & negroes I gave him...

P.S. Altho I have thought Propper not to mention it in my Will, Yet it is nevertheless my Earnest wish & desire that none of my family (Except my Daughter) ware the Smallest Scrip or Badge of Mourning for me, as I am well convinced not one of them (Except Herself) will be the Least Sorry for my Death - F.T." Written 3 Feb 1815. Proved Jun Court, Franklin Co., NC, 1816.
(From original wills, Franklin Co., NC, filed at NC State Archives, as submitted by Elizabeth E. Ross, Clayton, NC.)

JOHN CROW'S HEIRS, CHATHAM CO., N. C., 1849

"I have in my hands, as Clerk of the county Court of Guilford county, North Carolina, a considerable sum of money, belonging to the heirs at law of John CROW, deceased, (not Jennings) late of Chatham county, North Carolina. The said John CROW, deceased, left several children, heirs at law, to wit: Jesse, James, Reuben, John, Gabriel, Sarah, Rachel and Elizabeth. They have all got their shares but Jesse, Rachel (whom it is said married a SMITH) and Reuben CROW. Jesse, I am informed, lives in Tennessee; Rachel CROW, alias SMITH, in Missouri; and Reuben left this State, and it is said settled some where in the State of Georgia. If this notice should meet the eye of any of them or their relations or friends, it would be well for them to write immedately. James CROW, one of the heirs, who resides in this county, informs me that his brother Reuben, or Isaac as he was sometimes called, left this State and went to Clarke county, Georgia, but has not heard from him in many years. Greensboro', N.C., Dec 6, 1849 /s/ JOHN M. LOGAN, Clerk of Guilford County Court, N.C. Dec 26 ($3.00) 39-3t
